Bad Habits Make Good Scripts

A native of Winnipeg, M. Charles Cohen has become one of the nation's most successful freelance TV and radio writers. It all started when he broke away from the security of his job as a social worker

FOR A DRAMATIST who professes his writing habits to be "all bad," M. Charles Cohen is one of the most successful freelance TV and radio writers in Canada today. Three weeks away from his desk may spark an all-night session over such scripts as The Equalizer.

Born in Winnipeg and a graduate of University of Manitoba and University of Toronto, in Social Studies, Cohen went to Montreal from Toronto in 1955 as Supervisor of Adult Education at the YMHA, after eighteen months of "odd-jobbing" in England from 1952 to 1953. There he met his wife, Dian, a fellow-Winnipegger, who is now a university lecturer and broadcaster. But it was not until 1956 that Cohen decided to give up his job as a social worker and make a living from his type-writer full-time.

"Such a decision can't be taken lightly. I had saved up enough money to support my wife and myself for a year, and then I began turning half-hour radio and TV scripts out at a furious rate. I was lucky. The CBC started accepting them."

Since then the 35-year-old writer has gone from strength to strength. From his original half-hour TV drama Pastoral on On Camera in 1955, Cohen has written some 130 radio, TV and film productions. His radio and TV scripts have been seen in Sweden, Eire, Australia, Italy, Japan and his most recent hour-long comedy The Big Deal (G.M. Presents, January 22, 1961) was recently sold to Granada Television in England. Already this year CBC radio listeners have heard a revival of his This Will Do Nicely (Please turn to page 35)

On CBC Wednesday NightCanadian Harpist's
Carnegie Hall Debut

WHEN 18-year-old Canadian harpist Lise Nadeau made her Carnegie Hall debut in February, the critics predicted a brilliant future for her. The concert was recorded, and part of it will be presented this week on CBC Wednesday Night.

At the age of 12 Miss Nadeau was one of the most brilliant students in her class at the Quebec Conservatoire. Not long after, she became the first feminine member of the Quebec Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Wilfrid Pelletier.

In 1958 she went to New York to study at the famous Manhattan School of Music, where she now combines study with teaching. Her fellow professors include such distinguished men as Marcel Grandjany (who considers her talent remarkable), and Carlos Salzedo (who describes her as one of the most outstanding harpists of the younger generation).

Living with her in New York are her mother and her three younger sisters. Her sisters are also music students, and she hopes to form a quartet with them. She has received grants from the Canada Council and the Province of Quebec, and in 1959 she won first prize in an international harp contest in Tel-Aviv, Israel.

She is booked for numerous concert engagements in the United States and she plans to make a concert tour of Europe soon.

Forethought

"There's a Scottish death-bed story of a man being asked by his tearful wife if there was anything he wanted. He asked her if she would be serving the mourners with boiled ham after the funeral. When she sobbed out 'Yes', he said, 'Give me mine now. I won't be coming back!' — Andy Cowan Martin discussing the Scotsman's sense of humour in the BBC General Overseas Service program 'Scottish Magazine'.

A RADIO FAVOURITE for a long time, Jake and the Kid, will be taking over a spot on the CBC Television network this summer. The delightful rural folk in W. O. Mitchell's series about life in and around a small prairie town have made only one television appearance so far. But now they will come to life in a regular weekly series. Watch future issues for the time and date.

Writer Bill Mitchell can write with authenticity about life in a rural community, because he lives in one himself. The history-rich town of High River, Alberta, is his home.

ADD MRS. G. B. SCOTT of Hollywood, California, to the list of Americans who wish the CBC were part of the American scene. While visiting in Canada recently she wrote to John Kerr of CBC Winnipeg's Public Affairs Department: "Did you have anything to do with the wonderful Citizens' Forum on Canadian Citizenship that we saw yesterday? I'm so enthralled with Canadian TV! I don't want to go back to the U.S. for fear I will miss "Close-Up" or "Live a Borrowed Life. . . ."

THE LARGEST Canadian entertainment troupe sent abroad since World War II left April 12 for a tour of UN and NATO bases in France, West Germany and the Gaza Strip. Sponsored by the CBC and the department of national defence, under auspices of the United Nations, the troupe includes the cast of the Tommy Hunter Show, plus singers Joyce Hahn and Denyse Ange, dancers Sandra O'Neill and Sherry Moore, vibraphonist Peter Appleyard and emcee Gordie Tapp. (See photo below).

On Our Cover*A Crooner's Life History

The career, private life and business interests of singer Bing Crosby pass in review Sunday, May 7, when Tony Thomas interviews the famed crooner in a special one-hour program on CBC Trans-Canada radio. The program will include some of Crosby's records, including his first, made in 1926. Our cover picture was taken at the height of Bing's career, to publicize one of his radio shows.

LATE NOTES AND CORRECTIONS

WEEK OF APRIL 30 - MAY 6

Because each issue of the CBC Times must be mailed so far in advance of the program week covered in it, some changes in scheduling and in program content are inevitable. These are noted below:

SUNDAY, APRIL 30

RADIO

CBC Stage

"Two Solitudes," a novel by Hugh MacLennan, adapted for radio by Hugh Kemp. Play is set during First World War and the central character is a wealthy Quebec landowner and M.P. who tries to promote the industrialization of his province to aid in the war effort. He is opposed in this by the Quebec habitants and the Catholic church who are strongly isolationist and want to maintain Quebec as an agricultural rather than an industrial province.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

SATURDAY, MAY 6

CBWT, Winnipeg, will commence telecasts at 12:00 noon with Junior Magazine, originally scheduled for 11:00 a.m. At 1:00 p.m., a one-hour film of highlights at Winnipeg's Rodeo of Champions will be seen. Then at 2:00 p.m. World of Sport will present a program featuring swimming. The Horse Opera will be seen at 3:00.

The Baseball Game of the Week

telecast is cancelled

Similar changes will be made in telecast patterns of most other stations. Viewers should check their local newspapers or phone their stations for correct program schedules for May 6.

CORRECTION—LISTINGS

FOR CKX-TV, BRANDON

Since our last issue went to press, the City of Brandon has decided to change to Central Daylight Time on May 1. As a result, program listings for CKX-TV published in our last issue were largely incorrect.

Since local Brandon shows will appear in a different order than now listed, it is suggested that Brandon viewers consult local sources for correct telecast schedules.

Battling Bessie Braddock Speaks Out

Britain's counterpart of Charlotte Whitton, parliamentarian Bessie Braddock, will tell why she gets angry, on Venture, Sunday

BUSTLING, PRACTICAL, Bessie Braddock has spent several decades fighting to help the ordinary Britisher get a square deal. The newspapers have a heyday with Bessie's activities, because nothing seems to phase her. She'll tackle just about anyone or anything in the cause of justice. Her direct tactics and pungent remarks have made her one of the most controversial figures in British politics. Since 1930 she has been stirring things up on behalf of the underprivileged as a member of the Liverpool City Council, and, since 1945, as Labour Member of Parliament for Liverpool's Exchange District.

Last Fall, when Toronto freelance writer and broadcaster Elspeth Chisholm was in England, she recorded interviews with Bessie Braddock in the House of Commons and in her busy Liverpool office, and talked to some of Mrs. Braddock's friends and co-workers, her husband, and people who flock to her for advice and help. From their remarks Miss Chisholm put together a revealing picture of this remarkable little pocket battleship. Venture presents it on CBC radio Sunday afternoon. (While she was overseas Miss Chisholm spent some time in Italy, during which she recorded material which will be included in a CBC Wednesday Night feature on Italy, Mediterranean Paradox, to be heard on June 14).

Battling Bessie Braddock will include comments by Robert MacKenzie, a Canadian on the staff of London University and a political commentator for the BBC and CBC, who has known Mrs. Braddock and her work for years. He says "she has never been more than a back-bencher and is never likely to be. But in her 16 years in the House she has certainly made as distinctive a contribution to the life of Parliament as any private member of her day." He describes her as "a woman of wrath who has chosen to vent her wrath in politics. She likes to seize on certain specific examples of injustice, bureaucratic muddleheadedness or plain governmental stupidity and then raise Cain about them until something happens. And it's really surprising how often something does happen."

"I've said some shocking things in public," she told Miss Chisholm, "but I've always made sure they've been true, and as a consequence whenever I say anything, however bad or outrageous it may seem, everybody knows I've verified it, and it's got to be attended to."

"Bessie Braddock," says Elspeth Chisholm, "doesn't mind what people say about her as long as it's true. When the Labour government

"The Police"

A Joke on the Russians

THE POLICE, a satirical play by Polish playwright Slavomir Mrozek about a police state, will be presented this Monday on CBC-TV's Festival '61.

A hit of the Warsaw stage, the play was adapted for television by Jack Kuper, CBC graphic artist and playwright.

MAVOR MOORE

Distinguished actor Mavor Moore plays the part of The General in "The Police," a spoof on totalitarian states, Monday on Festival '61.

Kuper, who has written several original plays, first read about The Police in a Toronto newspaper.

"What made The Police newsworthy was its tremendous success in Warsaw, despite its theme," he says. "The government realized too late that it was being laughed at but announced a little later that it would sponsor a competition for the best play presenting the police in a favourable light."

The Police is set in a fictitious police state where the system functions so perfectly that only one prisoner remains in the penal institution. When the prisoner decides to accept the party lines and admit his guilt after spending 10 years in the prison, the officials of the police force realize they are in trouble, from the commissioner down to the sergeant.

Joseph Wiseman, a native of Montreal who has had a 25-year career in Hollywood and on Broadway, is cast as the prisoner. Liam Redmond portrays the Commissioner; Douglas Rain, the Sergeant Provocateur; Mavor Moore, the General; Charmion King, Mrs. Provocateur. Production is by Harvey Hart.

PROGRAM NOTES

MAY 7

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Music to See

(This series of programs, repeated from earlier this year, will be seen on CBWT starting May 14th. Other network stations began to receive it last week.)

Helmut Blume discusses the psychology of the performer. After outlining the dangers of stage fright, he gives some examples of what can happen to a performer suffering from this malady. He also illustrates the importance of a performer's correct interpretation of the composer's mood. Blume performs excerpts from: Beethoven's Concerto in C minor; Prelude in B flat major by Bach; Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata; and Chopin's A flat major Polonaise.

Face to Face

John Freeman interviews famed German conductor Otto Klemperer, who has held some of the most important musical positions in his country.

Country Calendar

New Machines. A review of machines designed specifically for the use of agricultural researchers. Dave Innes interviews Jack Thompson, officer in charge of agricultural engineering at the Swift Current Experimental Station, where many research machines have been developed.

Today is Child Safety Day. In recognition, common farm accidents are surveyed. A news package of interest to farmers is included, and Stan Westaway gives hints on tree planting.

My Sister Eileen

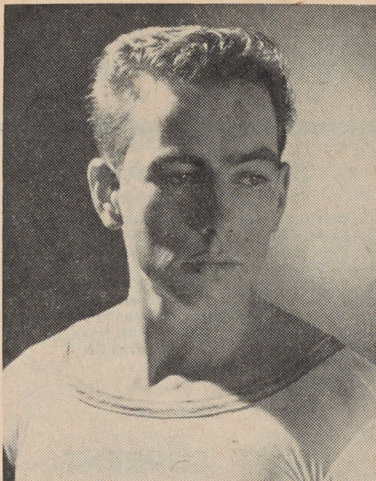

Eileen accepts the career encouragement of a playboy until her sister Ruth learns that he is a notorious wolf.

Silents Please

The Thief of Bagdad. Douglas Fairbanks plays a notorious thief who reforms for the love of a princess.

Directions in Music

A program informally dedicated to the various types of intimate opera, including the works of Purcell, Offenbach and Thomas Arne. The London Intimate Opera Company is featured, with musical director Antony Hopkins, soprano Ann Dowdall, tenor Stephen Manton and baritone Leland White.

DAVID HOLMES

David and Anna Holmes of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet dance the Waltz from Khachaturian's Masquerade Suite, Sunday on The World of Music.

Hopkins, well known in British broadcasting for lectures and talks on music, introduces the program.

The Nature of Things

Prof. Donald Ivey of the physics department, University of Toronto, demonstrates the laws of the universe in this highly-praised factual program. Each program features a major topic supplemented with short items dealing with science news and seasonal information.

The Sources of Science. What is science and where does it come from? Through a study of one of the oldest scientific societies in the world, the Royal Society of London, this program shows science at work, and suggests the scope and nature of the life in science.

Walt Disney Presents

Andrew's Raiders: Part I, the Secret Mission — A Union Army spy encounters rebel opposition when he and his volunteers steal a locomotive and try to disrupt southern rail lines.

The World of Music

A new faces show, with Montreal comedians Allan Scott and Chris Bryant, folk singers Ian Tyson and Sylvia Fricker and Winnipeg dancers David and Anna Holmes. Scott and Bryant do a sketch involving capsule versions of war movies, and another about telephone conversations. Tyson and Fricker sing Every Time I Feel the Spirit. David and Anna Holmes, of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, dance the Waltz from the Masquerade Suite by Khachaturian.

National Velvet

Velvet Brown's love for her horse form the framework for a tender and humorous serial, based on Enid Bagnold's famous novel. Arthur Space and Ann Doran play the 12-year-old Velvet's parents, Carol Wells is her teen-aged sister and Joey Scott plays her lovable younger brother, Donald.

Today, Velvet escapes serious injury when, in a fit of jealousy, she tries to outride Mi Taylor's girl friend a house guest of neighbours. With Betty Lynn and Barbara Howard.

General Motors Presents

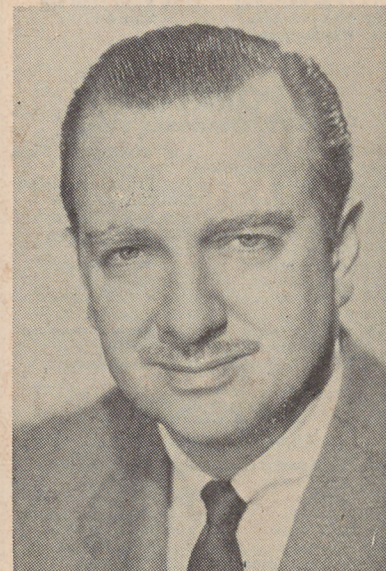

The Neighbour, by Jeanne Maxime-David, translated by Zena B. Renton. Produced by Harvey Hart, and starring Lois Nettleton and William Hutt, with Gordon Pinsett.

Lise, a young medical student, is overwrought by her pending examinations and a quarrel with her fiancé, Jean. In her bizarre Parisian flat, she finds a stranger who introduces himself as Serge, her neighbor.

Cast: Nettleton as Lise; Hutt as Serge; Pinsent as Jean; Stephen Appleby as Doctor.

CBWT—The Rebel

Johnny Yuma inadvertently aids a swindle in court testimony and tries to reverse the action in favor of the honest ranchers.

WALTER CRONKITE

Regular host on The Twentieth Century is Walter Cronkite.

PROGRAM NOTES

MAY 8

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Chez Helene

French for pre-schoolers, with Hélène Baillargeon and her assistants—Susie the mouse (Corinne Orr), Peter (Anthony Tremblay), and Marion. From Montreal.

Nursery School Time

Hoppy is pretending to fish, with plasticine worms and a paper-clip hook. Miss Teddy reads The Big Joke, about a boy and girl who went fishing. Lippity and Lop visit, and Miss Teddy makes them a fishing pole.

Open House

Museum Journeys. Barbara Stephen of the Royal Ontario Museum concludes her series with advice on collecting Oriental objects in Canada.

Fashions in Flowers. Thelma Boucher shows pictures taken on a visit to the Chelsea Flower Show in London, England, and the Edinburgh Botanical Gardens in Scotland.

Reflections

Today soprano Jean Marshall sings Deep In My Heart, Turn Ye To Me and It's a Most Unusual Day. Violinist Francis Chaplin plays A Woman Is a Sometimes Thing and Caprice No. 13

SYLVIA MURPHY

Lovely songstress Sylvia Murphy is a regular each Monday on The Music Makers. A Montrealer by birth, she made her start in entertainment at 16, and entered television in a 1957 summer show, Club O'Connor.

(Paganini). Phyllis Ensher, harpist, plays Sicilienne (Faure) and the orchestra plays Sleepyhead (Armstrong Gibbs).

The Verdict is Yours

Fascinating courtroom dramas, authentically staged with judge and counsel portrayed by professional lawyers. A jury selected from the audience gives its verdict at the completion of each case. Newsman Bill Stout supplies background and side-lights on each case.

Beginning today, "People vs. Kirkland." The jury is left to decide whether a wife's displeasure with her husband's activities boiled over into a knife attack on the husband's woman friend.

CBWT—Three's Company

Journals and maps of early explorers in Western Canada provide the background for Professor Warken-tin's geography series today. Cynthia Coop continues her new interior design presentation and Mary Liz and Bill explore the little-known corners of the province.

Junior Roundup

The Friendly Giant. Angie and Fiddle visit and have a concert in the music room, with Friendly, Rusty and Jerome. They play a song with an echo.

Host, Murray Westgate. Games and contests, with a studio audience of boys and girls. Dave Broadfoot, Jean Templeton and Frank Stalley conduct such contests as Telequiz, in which a boy or girl somewhere in Canada compete for a set of encyclopedia. The audience play a Whosit game, and home viewers are offered a chance to enter another Whatsit game. George Feyer creates his picture of the week, and Michael Roth entertains with magic.

Don Messer's Jubilee

With Don Messer and the Islanders, vocals by Marg Osburne and Charlie Chamberlain, and emcee Don Tremaine.

Guests will be banjo player Ray Little of Regina, and his vocalist wife. The orchestra will play Whalen's Breakdown, Billy in the Low Ground and Chicken Reel. Marg Osburne will sing Have I Told You Lately and Champagne Polka, then will join Charlie Chamberlain for Peace in the Valley. Charlie's solo will be M-O-T-H-E-R and the Buchta Dancers will perform Away Polka and Dad's Favorite Jig.

Danny Thomas Show

Danny Williams comes home to find that his wife has started a dispute

FRANK STALLEY

Announcer Frank Stalley appears frequently on Junior Roundup, assisting in the young peoples' contests, and reading news items of interest to youngsters.

between him and his boss over the painting of his dressing room at the Copa Club.

The Flintstones

Fred gets into the movies as the roughed-up stand-in for the movie star Gary Granite.

Music Makers

Composer-arranger Elmer Bernstein is guest conductor.

Festival '61

The Police, a satirical drama about a police state, by Polish playwright Slavomir Mrozek, adapted for television by Jack Kuper. Produced by Harvey Hart, and starring Joseph Wiseman and special guest Liam Redmond.

A fictitious police state has subjected its people so completely to despotic rule that the Commissioner has only one political prisoner left. The prisoner, after 10 years, decides to renounce his crimes against the State and swear allegiance to the dictator—thereby throwing officialdom into a state of confusion.

Cast: Wiseman as Prisoner; Redmond as Commissioner; Douglas Rain as Sergeant Provocateur; Mavor Moore as the general; Charmion King as Mrs. Provocateur.

CBWT—Gunsmoke

Matt Dillon almost muffs the strange job of defending himself against a man who wants him dead but is too cowardly either to kill him or to hire a killer.

PROGRAM NOTES

MAY 9

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Chez Helene

French for pre-schoolers, with Hélène Baillargeon and her assistants —Susie the mouse (Corinne Orr), Peter (Anthony Tremblay), and Marion. From Montreal.

Nursery School Time

Dick and Madeleine race two frogs, sing a frog song and read a story, Tim Tadpole and the Great Bullfrog. Miss Madeleine shows how to make a toy plasticine and pipe-cleaner frog.

Music Break

Kay Beddome joins Georges LaFleche, host Warren Davis and Bob McMullin and his orchestra for a program of enjoyable music. Georges sings Can I Steal a Little Love, and The Rose Tattoo, and joins Kay for Yellow Bird and Maria Bonita. Kay's solos are Angel Eyes and Lover, and the orchestra plays Blue Tango and the Sheik of Araby cha-cha-cha.

Three's Company

As a service to viewers interested in houses and housing, Three's Company co-operates with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to provide the facts and figures you need, and to dispel some of the fancies. Mat Gauer makes her apple cobbler, and Jose Poneira entertains at the piano.

KAY BEDDOME

Junior Roundup

Maggie Muggins. Fitzgerald Fieldmouse has adapted the story of Puss-in-Boots, calling it Mouse-in-Boots. Fitz, Reuben, and Grandmother Frog play roles, acting out the story.

Host, Murray Westgate. From Montreal, This Living World features Steve Bloomer. In Toronto, Eric Aldwinckle talks about mathematics.

Cartoon Party

Leon the Lion presents a half-hour of fun with favourite cartoon characters Crusader Rabbit and Bozo the Clown.

CBWT—Spotlight

Inspector Neil Clarke of the traffic division, Winnipeg Police Department, is guest on another of the City Traffic Series.

Q for Quest

The Wrecker, a comedy by Saul Bellow, produced by George McCowan. When a man and his wife are asked to vacate their apartment so the building can be torn down to make space for a school, the man decides to stick to his rights. With a few days remaining in his lease, he decides to start demolition work himself.

Cast: Tom Harvey as Husband; Charmion King as Wife; Cosette Lee as Mother-in-Law; and Joe Austin as City Employee.

BATTLING BESSIE

ment was in power, she was falsely accused of dancing a jig on the floor of the House of Commons, and of sitting in Churchill's chair. She took action and won her suit."

Miss Chisholm says "Bessie and Churchill have exchanged harsh words through the years, culminating in her refusal to sign his 80th birthday presentation book, one of a few abstaining members of the House of Commons. She tells about this on the program. She has led unemployment marches, along with her trade-union-official mother and her husband, Jack Braddock, who was also an early worker in the labour movement. She describes the time they clashed with the authorities on the famous Bloody Sunday in Liverpool. Bessie didn't get hurt because, she says, she could run so fast. She was a member of the Communist Party in the early days when it was compatible with membership in the British Labour Party. But she got out before the day of that common front was officially over, because she wouldn't take conflicting instructions from Communist headquarters."

Elizabeth M. Braddock was born 61 years ago into a middle-class family that had been fighters for years. She says, "the first time I went out after I was born was to a socialist meeting at which my mother was speaking. She said she knew I was going to be a rebel because I wouldn't keep still! So I was born to it."

A friend of 53 years, who lived with Bessie's family as a girl, says: "I've never known anyone to sacrifice like she has to get things put right for people. She fears nothing and nobody, and if she says she'll get something for somebody, she'll do it. I don't remember her sitting down to read a book or studying. But she's blessed with a wonderful memory. And as for debating — I wouldn't like to be in a debate with her. She always seems to get the right point. Her mother was the same — a marvellous orator. And

MAY 10

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Nursery School Time

Hoppy and Miss Teddy sing a new song; they also have a surprise, a live baby turtle in a bowl. They examine the turtle, play with it, and tell how to look after such a pet.

Open House

Artist in the Kitchen. Dione Lucas, world-famous cook, makes the first of four appearances. Today she demonstrates her theory that preparation of good food is another form of art.

On the Map. Paul Fox comments on the news.

Our Miss Brooks

Miss Brooks talks Mr. Conklin into getting a substitute teacher to relieve some of the work load on Mr. Boynton. But much to Miss Brooks' dismay, the new teacher becomes her competition.

CBWT—Three's Company

Prof. John Russell introduces viewers to the fascinating field of architecture and interior design. Bill Guest and Mary Liz visit the campus to meet students and faculty of the University of Manitoba, and we hear about the Manitoba Theatre Centre's touring production of The Four-Poster.

PETER APPELYARD

Just one of the many top jazz musicians to be heard Wednesday on the one-hour special Canadian Jazz Show Wednesday on CBC-TV is Peter Appleyard.

Samuel Lount (Ed McGibbon) and Peter Matthews (Allan Mills), leading rebels in Mackenzie's attempt to overthrow the government, are defended in court by Robert Baldwin (Leo Ciceri), a leading reformer. The scene is from A Matter of Principle—Robert Baldwin, Wednesday on CBC-TV's Explorations.

Junior Roundup

The Friendly Giant. There are things which are hard for some people to do, but easy for others. Friendly, Rusty and Jerome discuss this, and read a book, Is It Hard, Is it Easy?

Host, Murray Westgate. In Halifax, Old Tom and the Shantymen have more sea songs and stories. Stu-Phillips, The Outrider, brings more ballads and stories of the West from Winnipeg, telling about the sport of snaring sucker fish. Harry Freedman and musicians in Toronto describe different kinds of guitars and their uses in music.

Countrytime

Nebraska Tractor Tests. The well-known tests that provide farmers with information such as fuel usage, power take-off and drive belt ratings, about current makes of tractors.

Agricultural Machinery Administration. An interview by Jack McConnell of Jack Kyle, director of the AMA, who outlines the organization's background and plans for the future.

The Canadian Jazz Show

The many sounds of jazz, featuring some of North America's top jazz musicians. Assisting host Fred Davis in introducing the performers is Oscar Peterson, one of the most versatile jazz pianists.

Among performers will be the Oscar Peterson Trio; the Phil Nimmons Group; singer Eve Smith, the

Don Thompson Eleven; trumpeter Lee Morgan; the Peter Appleyard Quartet; and the Ron Collier Ten-Tet. The music:

I Like to Recognize the Tune _____ Oscar Peterson Trio
Little Poppy _____ Phil Nimmons Group
At Long Last Love _____ Eve Smith and the Don Thompson Eleven
Buster Rides Again _____ Don Thompson Eleven
Moanin' _____ Lee Morgan
I'll Remember April _____ Peter Appleyard Quintet
Asarully _____ Peterson Trio and Nimmons Group
The Myth of Marsyas _____ Ron Collier Ten-Tet
All the Things
You Are _____ Lee Morgan and Peterson Trio
You Don't Know What
Love Is _____ Eve Smith and Thompson Eleven
Where Do I Go From Here? _____ Peterson Trio

Winston Churchill—The Valiant Years

The Final Christmas. The Allies repulse the final, desperate, all-out attack by the Germans in the Battle of the Bulge.

Explorations

A Matter of Principle—Robert Baldwin. Baldwin's personal struggle for responsible government in Upper Canada. Baldwin was joint premier of United Canada from 1848 to 1851, and the program shows him just before the Mackenzie Rebellion, which he failed to join. It illustrates his more cautious and temperate approach to reform, which was ultimately successful.

CBWT—Director's Choice

The Last Lesson, starring Charles Laughton and Patricia Medina. An absent-minded schoolmaster of a small town becomes involved in World War II.

PROGRAM NOTES

MAY 11

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Chez Helene

French for pre-schoolers, with Hélène Baillargeon and her assistants —Susie the mouse (Corinne Orr), Peter (Anthony Tremblay), and Marion. From Montreal.

Nursery School Time

Miss Madeleine and Dick feed their gold fish in the aquarium. Dick also has a tadpole in a bowl, and Miss Madeline shows how a tadpole grows into a frog. She shows how to make a fish mobile decoration out of wire, string and paper.

The Verdict Is Yours

Fascinating courtroom dramas, authentically staged with judge and counsel portrayed by professional lawyers. A jury selected from the audience gives its verdict at the completion of each case. Newsman Bill Stout supplies background and side-lights on each case.

Three's Company

Jose Poneira presides at the piano, and amateur painters describe and illustrate the fun they have learning to paint and having a public exhibit of their work.

Junior Roundup

Sing Ring Around. Donna Miller and her friend Cheeky invite boys and girls at home to sing along with them and learn their musical dances and stories. They have dolls and toys to help them illustrate the songs, and they dance.

Host, Murray Westgate. Hank Hedges and another guest tell how to collect and care for tropical fish. Bill Lorne brings another space report, and Eric Aldwinckle tells a ghost story. Otto Schwentke tells of his experiences when a weatherman for the Canadian government.

Roy Rogers

Roy and Dale try to prevent the murder of an Indian trapper, but instead discover a double murder and the clue to the whereabouts of a fortune stolen from a derailed train.

Stop, Look and Listen

For the next three weekly programs, John Hirsch will give practical hints about how to put on a play. Many schools with drama clubs will find

DONNA MILLER

Donna Miller and friend Cheeky invite boys and girls at home to sing along with them each Thursday on Junior Roundup, popular afternoon show for the young.

this advice useful in solving the problems of play production. Today, John begins with pointers on how to select a play. Where does one go to find plays that have not been done to death? And once the play has been found, how do you go about casting?

Putting your improved speaker in a box is the subject of Geoff Spurr's Hobby Page segment. Geoff shows how to make reflex cabinets which really improve the sound of small speakers.

Garden Guide Hector Macdonald wraps up his series with more timely tips for young gardeners.

From CBC's Winnipeg studios, produced by Don Browne-Wilkinson.

CBWT-Spotlight

Cpl. W. S. Greenlay of the RCMP and Mr. Jim Eberts are guests in another program of the Boat and Water Safety Series.

CBWT-Father Knows Best

Bud is plagued by the unwanted attentions of plain Dora Fenway. His father upbraids him for his lack of courtesy in trying to get rid of her.

Live a Borrowed Life

Guest panelist on this program is Betty Kennedy, women's interviewer and commentator, and special guest challenger is comic-musician Morey Amsterdam.

CBWT-Wanted Dead or Alive

Cheated at cards, Randall uses the "Montana Kid"—a crooked gambler—to lead him to his quarry.

another thing. It wouldn't matter what scraps Bessie's been in or what trouble she's had — she can go to bed and sleep like a top."

After the First World War Bessie Braddock was one of the first women in Britain to discard her corsets, and she has plumped steadily for women's rights ever since. "But I'm not a feminist," she insists. "I think I'm as good as any man in my particular way. I say women in politics have to be better than men because they've got to compete for selection with men. And although it's better than it used to be, there is still prejudice against women in public life."

"We've only got 25 women members in the House of Commons, out of 650, and it's quite insufficient. I think there's a job women can do. I've always found that they get the most difficult jobs to do. I'd like to see the time when we are able to have 150 or 200 women in the House of Commons and on local government. In local government particularly I think there's scope for women, because it's purely a big house-keeping arrangement, and women know how to spend money, how to adjust it."

Bessie Braddock is no intellectual. She's a woman of action rather than ideas. People in trouble with everything from law to in-laws have been coming to her for help for many years, and getting it with no dilly-dallying or false assurances. If you were to call Bessie sentimental she would snort indignantly. She says "You can't deal with a lot of sentiment — you deal with the problem." But she has great compassion for people who are ill, friendless or down on their luck. She makes short shrift of excuses. She can see through a phoney in seconds, and she can bulldoze the most reluctant people into doing things her way, and pronto.

In Liverpool, if anyone wants help or advice, they go to see Bessie Braddock. All her letter-

PROGRAM NOTES

MAY 12

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Nursery School Time

Miss Teddy and Hoppy visit the zoo, and in particular look at the turtles.

Open House

It Seems to Me. A panel discusses the place of credit buying in the family. Chairman is Mrs. Margaret Pope, CBC consumer broadcaster. On the panel are Miss Edna Park, associate professor of the department of household science, University of Toronto; Mrs. Helen Bray, Toronto housewife; and Mrs. Jean Woods-worth, social worker with the North York and Weston Family Service.

What We Should Know About Children's Shoes. Textile expert Mary Humphries tells how to buy children's shoes.

Fashions for the Sand Box Set. Moyra Walker and Mary Humphries show fabrics and patterns which mothers can make in a minimum of time, for boys and girls in the two, four and six-year age groups. Children's play equipment also is shown, and Vicki Runge demonstrates easy-care hair styles for little girls.

CBWT—Three's Company

Gerdine Crawford demonstrates simple methods of sewing colorful and useful warm-weather attire. Esme Crampton continues her course, and Mary Liz and Bill review community activities around town.

Junior Roundup

The Friendly Giant. Friendly reads a book, The Elephant's Wish, about how every animal wishes he were a different animal. Rusty, Jerome and Friendly look in on animals in cages at the zoo.

Host, Murray Westgate. Another episode of Eyes West, the documentary about British Columbia, comes from Vancouver. Today, The Night They Shot Poor Nell, the story of a shooting that almost started a war between Canada and the United States. From Toronto, Frank Stalley brings us Your World This Week, a newscast of events interesting to young people. Murray and Frank read letters from the Roundup mailbag.

RAYMOND BURR

Ace criminal lawyer Perry Mason, played by Raymond Burr, comes in for his share of excitement and adventure Friday night on the hour-long thriller.

On Safari in Asia

Through the cameras of Armand and Michael Denis, viewers visit Vietnam. They go on a sampan ride; visit a shoe shop where sandals are made to order; see the collection of a gold fish fancier and specialist; and watch an open air dentist at work. The Temple of the Tortoises is visited, where one prays for long life and good luck.

Country Hoedown

Western and country-style music and dancing, hosted by Gordie Tapp. Mary Frances, Tommy Common, Tommy Hunter, the Hames Sisters, The Singing Swinging Eight and square dance caller Johnny Davidson are the regulars.

heads and documents bear the phrase: When you want Bessie she'll be there. Once a week, every week, Bessie is on duty in the big, starkly-furnished rooms of her "surgery," where around 55 people queue for hours to tell her their troubles in private interviews. She welcomes all nationalities and religions, and no one has to make an appointment to see her. "Whatever wants doing, I do it," she says, "but if I can't do anything I'm honest about it and put them in touch with people who can. I'm prepared to fight like the dickens for anything I think is right."

And, says Britain's Battling Bessie, "if I had my life to live over again, I wouldn't make one change of any sort."

On Four's Company this season:

"Jeeves" . . . and The Greeks

by JOHN REEVES

Producer of Four's Company

AS USUAL, Four's Company will be quite a mixed bag—mixed, that is, both in flavour and in style. We have begun with a Greek tragedy and there could hardly be any greater contrast than the two Jeeves stories we hope to tackle later on. The one quality, it could be said, which Sophocles and Wodehouse have in common is the worth of their writing qua writing. And we have tried to make this quality the criterion by which we choose our material and the standard by which we must try to perform it; that is, we look for material which is a joy to read or to speak, and we hope that there will be some joy in the hearing of it. Reading, indeed, is the key to the series: we do not exclude straight theatre, such as Electra; but on the whole we aim at dramatized readings rather than thoroughgoing plays.

This week's program has a foot in the two camps of theatre and theatrical history. It's called Theme and Variations, and sets out to examine an aspect of Greek drama which seems never to have been given the full critical or scholarly attention it deserves: the re-working of Greek themes by later dramatists. This began with the Romans who in their turn, chiefly through Seneca, had a great and partly-Greek influence on Renaissance drama. A large number of modern plays betray the same parentage, famous examples being Anouilh's Antigone, Eliot's The Family Reunion, and Sartre's The Flies. In our script a few scenes from the Greek plays will be performed, in English translations of varying date and flavour, and then the same scenes will be played again as they appear when re-worked by later dramatists from Roman days to our own. The commentary linking the scenes is by Henry Comor, who assembled the script, and the scenes themselves will be acted by the Toronto Drama Quartet—whose members are, as in past seasons, Diana Maddox, Ruth Springford, John Drainie, and Mavor Moore.

Other literary documentaries in the series are Articulation of the Image, a study by George Whalley of the long and constant maturing

On Distinguished Artists

Canadian, European Performers

SIX CANADIAN SOLOISTS who have gained international acclaim and two outstanding European musicians will be guests during the next two months on the Distinguished Artists series, heard Tuesdays on CBC Trans-Canada.

This week's artist is pianist Geraldine Mason, a native of Edmonton who left Canada for Europe in 1952 after winning a French government scholarship entitling her to two years at the Ecole Normale and the Marguerite Long School of Music in Paris. Later she took a short course in conducting at Sienna, Italy, and then moved to Britain.

She returned to Canada recently for a brief visit and while here recorded the program to be heard this Tuesday. Since establishing herself in Britain, Miss Mason has given many concerts in London, including solo recitals, sonata recitals with 'cellist Pauline Sadgrove and recitals as half of a piano duo.

FRANCIS CHAPLIN

One of the top Canadian artists to appear in the next few weeks on Distinguished Artists is violinist Francis Chaplin, who is seen regularly on the Monday television show, Reflections, with the Gordon MacPherson orchestra.

Further Renown for CBC Symphony

Fresh from its performance at the Inter-American Music Festival in Washington, D.C., the CBC Symphony is to give another important concert, at the Canadian Conference of the Arts in Toronto. It will be recorded for broadcast Friday, May 12

ONE OF THE main attractions at the Canadian Conference of the Arts being held in Toronto's O'Keefe Centre from May 4 to 6 will be a concert of Canadian works by the CBC Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Geoffrey Waddington, CBC director of music. It will be recorded for broadcast Friday night, May 12, on CBC radio.

The program will include the world première of Divertimento for Bassoon by John Weinzweig, who teaches composition and orchestration at the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto. Nicholas Kilburn, first bassoonist with the CBC Symphony, will be the soloist. Also on the program will be Symphony No. 4 by Barbara Pentland of Vancouver, which was commissioned by the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra in 1959 on a Canada Council Grant, and was first performed in Winnipeg a year ago; and Lyrical Orchestra by Harry Somers, which was commissioned by the Koussevitzky Foundation and first performed recently by the National Orchestra of Mexico at the Inter-American Music Festival in Washington, D.C. Somers has spent the last few months studying in France on a Canada Council fellowship.

The Canadian Conference of the Arts, which is attracting some 250 widely-known leaders in the seven arts, was called to consider the status of culture and the artist in Canada, and to see what can be done to improve it. There will be panel discussions on visual, literary, and music arts, led by renowned international authorities in various fields; poetry readings, concerts, and displays of publications and visual arts.

The CBC Symphony Orchestra is the only full-sized symphony orchestra in North America supported entirely by a radio network.

In close to 450 broadcasts since it was formed in 1952, the orchestra has made a point of playing less familiar works, in addition to some of the standard repertoire, has performed dozens of new pieces by Canadian and foreign composers, and has given scores of new artists a chance to perform with a full-scale orchestra before a nationwide audience. In less than nine years it has become one of the Continent's outstanding orchestras, and this without the benefit of a permanent conductor. Visiting conductors from all over the world have expressed high praise for its unusual versatility and flexibility. Sir Malcolm Sargent once described it as "one of the four great orchestras of the Americas." Many of the delegates to the Canadian Conference of the Arts are looking forward to the pleasure of seeing as well as hearing this fine group perform.

The CBC Symphony has just returned from the Inter-American Music Festival in Washington, where it was one of five orchestras invited to take part. This honor was shared by the Dallas Symphony, the Washington National Symphony, the Rochester Symphony, and the National Orchestra of Mexico. It was the CBC Symphony's first performance outside Canada, but not its first appearance away from its home base in Toronto. Last August the closing event at the International Conference of Composers at Stratford was a concert by the CBC Symphony, which was broadcast from the Festival Theatre. In the audience

POSTMARK U.K.

This week—"The Mother of Wales," that was the name once given to the island of Anglesey which Postmark visits today. Lying off the north-west coast of Wales, Anglesey is a rural place with a lively and varied community life and a long history. In this program you'll hear from the island's people about their own Agricultural College and Little Theatre, and the R.A.F. Mountain Rescue Team, Anglesey's folk songs and legends, and the seabirds that flock around its coast, as well as learning just how to pronounce the name of that famous village called:

Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwlantysiliogogogoch!

W-8:35 pm K-1:03 pm X-12:03 pm

MATINEE HIGHLIGHTS

The Simoneaus. Tenor Leopold Simoneau and his wife, coloratura

soprano Pierrette Alarie, are two of Canada's outstanding singers. Recently they sang the leading roles in the television production of the opera "Orphee" by Gluck on CBC's Festival '61. When Lou Craig of Montreal visited the Simoneaus, they talked to her about their early struggles for their careers, their life together and their views on the state of music in Quebec. (Repeated from Trans-Canada Matinee, March 24, 1961).

Naturalist and Bird Mimic. Harold Mossop is a Winnipeg naturalist and over the years he's taken a particular interest in birds. Not only can he recognize many birds and give considerable information about them, but he's also become a noted bird mimic and he is a member of the Manitoba Natural History Society. Trans-Canada Matinee's hostess Betty Tomlinson talks with Mr. Mossop, who tells her that he can mimic a bird call after hearing it once if it's a simple one. Listeners will be able to compare his mimics with tape recordings of authentic bird calls. (Repeated from Trans-Canada Matinee, April 14, 1961).

cational and Public Affairs service of the CBC, Place publique will deal with countless problems of general interest. However, instead of relying on the help of experts only to present and analyze the subjects open for discussion, the producers will invite some 50 persons each week, who will participate in the debate and offer their personal opinions.

On May 7th, the subject discussed will be the state's intervention in the economic affairs of a province. Participants will be contractors, farmers, workers and businessmen directly concerned with the state's policies in economics. Host will be Jean-Paul Lefebvre.

Les Contes D'Hoffman

Jacques Offenbach's opera "Les Contes d'Hoffman" (The Tales of Hoffman) will be presented in its filmed version on CBWFT Monday, May the 8th at 11:00. Produced in Britain in 1950 by M. Powell and E. Pressburger, it stars Moira Shearer, Ludmilla Tchérina and L. Massine. In a German tavern, Hoffman calls to mind the four women he has loved: Olympia, a dancing doll; Gioletta, a Venetian courtesan; Antonia, who died from singing too much. Hoffman now loves an opera dancer who, annoyed at his drunkenness, leaves him to marry a rich patron. A touch of German expressionism doubled with a hint of surrealism, make this filmed opera a delightful and spritely musical which will no doubt be appreciated by all music lovers.

Espionage

An espionage drama titled "La maison de la 92^e rue" (House on 92nd Street) will be seen on Wednesday, May 10th at 11:00. This film relates an episode in the fight led by the counter-espionage forces of the U.S. against well-organized agents of the Nazi forces during World War II who sought to get the atom bomb secrets. Directed by Henry Hathaway, it stars William Eythe and Lloyd Nolan.

Alfred Cortot

Maryvonne Kendergi, CBC commentator for the French network's European Festivals series and other noted musical productions, will be featured on Premier Plan this coming Monday, May 8th at 9:30, when she interviews French musician Alfred Cortot, one of the great teachers of the 20th Century.

Churchill in America. Sir Winston Churchill has made many trips to North America, the first in 1895, and some of the memorable moments will be recaptured in this special hour-long program which was first broadcast on the Trans-Canada radio network of the CBC early this year, and has been specially adapted for Matinee.

Winston Churchill

The program was researched and written by the Supervisor of CBC Program Archives, Robin Woods, who came across many items which had not been published or broadcast in more than 20 years. Much of the material is, in fact, unique. The narrator is Vincent Tovell and the producer Murray Edwards. Included in the recordings used are many of Sir Winston's Churchill's own American and Canadian addresses, as well as the speeches and tributes of his friends and colleagues — including Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Bernard Baruch, Mackenzie King and Louis St. Laurent. One of the great occasions recaptured is his consulting psychologist with the children's aid societies of Ottawa and Barrie; and Mrs. Crofton is a home economist.

Other features . . . Matinee begins a new book reading this week, "The Life of Florence Nightingale" by Cecil Woodham-Smith. The gentle and heroic figure of the Lady with the Lamp, founder of the modern profession of nursing, was only one aspect of Florence Nightingale's character. Mrs. Woodham-Smith tells how her strong will, independent mind and adventurousness gave her family endless trouble and the world a woman of genie. The news commentary will be given by Isabel Wilson of Toronto. Dr. G. B. Payzant, Editor of the Canadian Music Journal, will play records during the music period. Dr. Payzant is in the Department of Philosophy, University of Toronto, and in the "spare" time left from his teaching and editorial duties he plays the organ at the Lawrence Park Community Church.

W-2:03 pm K-3:33 pm X-2:33 pm

SCHOOL BROADCAST

Saskatchewan. "Signposts for Safety." First of three broadcasts which will add to the child's understanding and knowledge of safety problems. The lessons will re-enforce the meaning of the ABC's of Safety. Stress will be laid upon constant attention to avoid the dangers that lurk on roads and streets. The signpost is the key to the broadcasts. Also, "Let's Read and Listen," a program designed to supplement classroom work in literature, to add depth and understanding through dramatizations and poetry readings. Today—"Where Love Is, God Is." This broadcast will be a 15-minute dramatization of the story of Leo Tolstoi. It is included in "Life and Literature"—Book II, authorized for grade eight classes.

throughout the United States, Canada and Europe and has been guest soloist with many of the world's great orchestras, will be the performer for the May 16 program.

Italian 'cellist Antonio Janigro will be the artist for the program on May 23. Janigro, who was born in Milan in 1918 and made his musical debut 16 years later, will play his own arrangement of Bach's Largo as well as other works. Besides being soloist with many great orchestras, Janigro is also conductor of I Solisti di Zagreb, a chamber orchestra which has won fame throughout North America and Europe.

Greek soprano Arda Mandikian, who has appeared at festivals in Edinburgh, Aldeburgh, Venice, Athens, Paris, Holland, Berlin, Florence and Stratford, Ont., and in operas around the world, will present 21 Centuries of Greek Song in her appearance on Distinguished Artists, May 30. Miss Mandikian has drawn critical raves wherever she has appeared.

Two Western Canada pianists will combine their talents in the June 6 program. Barbara Pentland, who is probably better known as a composer of music rather than as a performer, and Vancouver pianist Robert Rogers will perform a program of music for duo pianists.

Miss Pentland, who was born in Winnipeg and has studied music in Paris and New York, is regarded as a brilliant exponent of the modern technique in composition. Three of her own compositions will form the program for Distinguished Artists, including Sonata for Two Pianos, which she wrote in 1953.

Joseph Rouleau of Montreal will be the guest soloist for the June 13 program. Rouleau is a 32-year-old bass baritone who studied for two years in Italy and has sung frequently in the United States and Canada and has also appeared with

This week—"Fort Prince of Wales." When it was built back in the early 1800's, Fort Prince of Wales, at the mouth of the Churchill River was a formidable structure, designed to safeguard the important fur trade which converged on Hudson Bay. The Fort was destined however, to have a relatively brief and inglorious history. Tonight, J. A. Davidson, former Chaplain at Churchill, talks about the building of the fort, and its short career as guardian of the fur trade.

of the poet W. B. Yeats; and Jargon, an attack by Alan King on one of the worst verbal vices of our time. Social documentary is well represented this year: John Drainie has adapted E. S. Turner's The Shocking History of Advertising; Mavor Moore has furnished two studies, of The Rise and Fall of Witchcraft, and of Cranks in Religion and Science; James Bannerman has assembled an anthology of Invective and Repartee and has written a short critical history of Snobbery; Diana Maddox has put together a portrait gallery of Four Eccentrics; Tommy Tweed has excavated Tales of the Rails, some light-hearted episodes in the history of Canadian railways; and Lyon Todd has edited A Life of the Poor, drawn from Henry Mayhew's interviews with London paupers a hundred years ago, Clarence Darrow's cross-examinations of impoverished Pennsylvania miners in the 'nineties, and contemporary Canadian case-histories.

Another script, which verges on the documentary because it is a reading from a genuine social document, rejoices in the title of The Canadian Home, Farm, and Business Cyclopaedia. The original book was published in 1883 and is a mine of entertainment, chiefly in the passages which deal with etiquette. It has been prepared for radio by Philip Stratford and its air is not so much earnestly documentary or historical, as ambling—a browse in a favourite book.

The rest of the series can be lumped together under the rather vague heading of literature, a notion which is suggested by the eminence of some of the original authors. Walter de la Mare has been drawn upon for his novel The Return, an account of supernatural possession in an Edwardian setting; E. M. Forster for his short story The Machine Stops, a meditation, as

SCIENCE REVIEW

Third in a series of broadcasts by scientists about the life in science. In popular terms, scientists will describe their work, their interests, and the ideas which have prompted their research. Editor and host is Lister Sinclair.

This week—"Sweetness." Why does sugar taste sweet? And how much sweeter is saccharine? And does it taste sweet to, say, a honey bee? Adjectives such as "sweet" give a great deal of trouble to scientists. Sooner or later they will have to deal with them as measurable quantities. A measurement of sweetness has been proposed, called the "gust". How far the quality has been assessed by scientists constitutes the program. Speakers - N. T. Gridgeman, biometrics division, division of applied biology, National Research Council; R. H. Wright, head of the division of chemistry, British Columbia Research Council.

DENYSE ANGE

Petite singer Denyse Ange is heard each Thursday with accordionist Charles Camilleri on the program Camilleri and Company.

W-8:00 pm K-9:00 pm X-8:00 pm

he calls it, upon the collapse of a machine-run civilization of the future; Oscar Wilde for his well-known ghost story, The Canterville Ghost; and P. G. Wodehouse for two tales from the equally famous Jeeves canon; Rebecca West for her short story There is No Conversation, a weird graph of the human failure to communicate; and C. S. Lewis for his religious allegory, Perelandra, a re-working of the myth of the temptation of Eve in the setting of the planet Venus. One other religious script completes our list: the length of the program will be extended to 90 minutes on one of the Saturdays in the later part of the summer, to accommodate A Fourteenth Century Life of Christ, which is based completely on works written in that period and modernized as little as possible. The main document is The Pepysian Gospel Harmony (so-called because the manuscript belonged at one time to Samuel Pepys), which weaves the four gospels into one cohesive and continuous narrative. This is interpolated with poems, prayers and sermons of the time, and with short passages of plainchant.

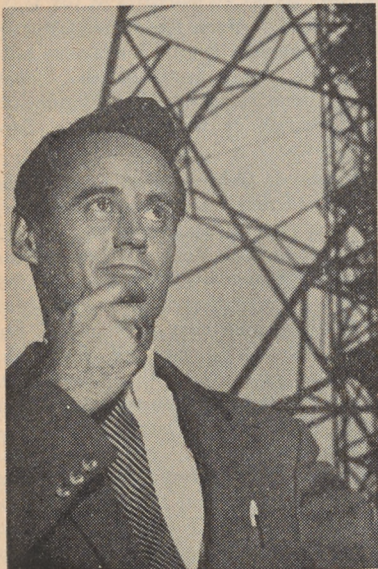

That, then, is a brief account of what we hope to bring you this season. We hope that you will find it varied and entertaining and that at least some of it will cater to your own special and individual tastes.

were 63 of the world's leading composers from 20 countries.

The glowing personal reports they took home with them added to the orchestra's fine reputation already established abroad through recordings and CBC International Service broadcasts.

MAX FERGUSON

Old Rawhide, featuring the many voices of Max Ferguson, has become a Canadian institution. The program is heard weekdays on CBC Radio.

the Covent Garden Opera in London.

Soprano Audrey Farnell, a native of Amherst, N.S., will be heard June 20. Miss Farnell, who spent two seasons studying in New York under Madame Lotte Leonard, a noted lieder and oratorio singer from Europe, has frequently given recital tours throughout the Maritimes and for several seasons was a soloist in the annual Christmas performance of The Messiah under Sir Ernest MacMillan. She has been heard frequently on the CBC and has taken leading roles in the productions of the Nova Scotia Opera Association.

On June 27, the final program in the current series will feature violinist Francis Chaplin of Newcastle, N.B. Chaplin is concert master of the Halifax Symphony Orchestra. He has toured Canada several times and has appeared in recitals in Boston, New York and Bermuda. He graduated from the Juilliard School of Music in New York where he also won the Morris Loeb Memorial Prize as the student "who is considered the most excellent in talent, ability and achievement."

M. Charles Cohen: Bad Habits Make Good Scripts

and Weslie Wheatfield (Halifax, March 9), with Beautiful Deep, and Fine from Vancouver, coming up in the next few months.

"Whatever I write, I give to my wife and watch her expression while she reads it. She has a very sensitive face, and I can tell just how good it is. She's a whole TV audience right in my own home."

The subjects and themes that he chooses are not consciously Canadian, though from his social work he has come to "a deeper understanding of Canadians and their motives for doing things."

It is the small man with the small problems who interests him, and he treats him with an indulgent whimsy and a kindly irony, as in The Great Lake Erie Float, a play about a struggling artist who jumps on the band-wagon of the marathon craze, determining to float across Lake Erie and paint as he drifts along.

The script he is proudest of is the one that created the most stir: Hostage, produced by Harvey Hart in November '58 on Folio, which set off a flurry of letters to the Canadian papers because of Cohen's alleged attack on British constitutional authority in Cyprus during that country's political upheaval. He recalls laughingly the number of threatening phone calls he received.

"The only other time I have been 'put to the stocks' for anything I have written was during my undergraduate days when I had a movie column in the Manitoba, our undergraduate newspaper. I was barred from every movie-house across the province."

At present Cohen has just completed a 90-minute adaptation of Brian Moore's novel The Luck of Ginger Coffey for Festival '61 on June 19, to be produced by Harvey Hart.

"It is a brilliantly constructed novel. Very readable. The more I worked on it the more I liked it."

The story concerns an Irishman who comes to Montreal to live, his difficulty finding a job and adapting to the new way of life. Cohen's own experiences in England were not dissimilar to those of Ginger Coffey.

"We take it for granted that if we speak the same language as another country, we can understand them. This isn't the case. That's one of the things Ginger Coffey can't understand."

Cohen has recently turned to prose since broadcast writing demands that the writer be "honest within a narrower framework. There is no place on television for the violently controversial. The theatre and the novel can be outspoken, but TV writers have to accept the fact that certain ideas can't be used." Cohen is now working on a novel, provisionally titled, Today I am a Man.

"TV writing," he says, "is good training for a writer. It's a lonely, insecure way of life, but the field is wide open."

HOT CHICKEN SOUFFLE SANDWICH

8 slices bread
3 tbsp. butter or margarine
½ tsp. sage

Cream butter and sage. Spread on bread. Lay 4 slices of bread into bottom of 9" x 9" Pyrex pan. Make filling.

FILLING:

1½ cups diced chicken
⅓ cup diced celery
2 tbsp. diced green pepper
3 chopped green onions
⅛ tsp garlic salt
2 tbsp. salad dressing
Salt and pepper to taste

Mix in order given and spread on bread in pan. Cover with remaining bread, buttered side up.

SAUCE:

1 tbsp. margarine or butter
1 tbsp. flour
1½ cups skim milk
1 tsp. dehydrated chicken
consomme
½ tsp. marjoram
3 eggs
Salt and pepper to taste

Melt butter. Blend in flour, gradually adding milk, consomme and marjoram. Cook until consistency of cream soup. Cool. Beat eggs, add to creamed mixture and pour over sandwiches. Bake 1 hour at 325 degrees or until custard is set. Decorate with bacon curl and serve with freshly-cooked asparagus.

FROM OUR MAILBAG

Up to Expectations

• I would like to congratulate the CBC for their excellent producing and acting in the famous classic Great Expectations by Charles Dickens (Festival '61 March 27th). . . .

• I watched the Festival '61 production of Dickens' Great Expectations and would like to congratulate the CBC on a very worthwhile production.

I have always maintained (and still do) that Dickens cannot be dramatized without losing a great deal of his appeal, but your production came as close to presenting the true Dickens as any I have seen.

Congratulations also to Eric House for his particularly fine portrayal of Joe Gargery.—P.K., Vanguard, Sask.

• I wish to convey to you our appreciation of the play Great Expectations on Festival '61 March 27th. It was splendid. We sat enthralled by it from start to finish, and hope that you will be producing more programs like it. I might mention that the whole evening was enjoyable. —J.E.B., Palmer, Sask.

• I should like to congratulate you upon your presentation of Great Expectations. It was excellent in every way. More, please!—Mrs. M.R., Winnipeg.

Noodle-Whipping Advised

• I wish to make a complaint about the Chicago-Montreal game on March 28th, 1961. One of the outstanding Montreal players, Billy Hicke, was not recognized in the three star selections. This, in my opinion, was a gross injustice. I think the people who were making the choice should be taken out and whipped with a wet noodle. . . .—E.R., Lestock, Sask.

* * *

American Impressed

• I would like to tell you how much I enjoyed your program The Roaring '20's Tuesday (March 28th). . . . Hope to hear it again next week. —D.C., Spangle, Wash., U.S.A.

"Letters We Like" Dept.

• Enclosed please find a postal order for $5.00 for my subscription to the CBC Times. I have not been reading it for very long, but find it most interesting and informative. Please pass along my thanks to all those engaged in compiling the information it contains. I think they are doing a fine job.

I would also like to pass along my thanks to the CBC for all the interesting and entertaining programs which they provide for us on television and radio. I know they receive a lot of criticism and knocks but I for one think we get a good variety of programs for our entertainment.

I think if all those who criticize would just stop and think of all the work that is put into CBC programming, and how hard it is to please the public, they would be inclined to send along more thanks and less criticism. Maybe I am an exception, but I enjoy the majority of the programs the CBC provides. . . .—Miss M.M., Edmonton
